

FUSIONSTORM: ONE SINGLE POINT OF CONTACT

At FusionStorm, we deliver IT your way. We believe providing effective technology solutions is as much about people as it is about hardware and software.

In fact, our most important expertise of all is listening to clients and responding quickly to changing needs.

That's why hundreds of organizations large and small have trusted FusionStorm to provide a wide range of IT solutions and services from one single point of contact.

Objectives-based solutions from leading vendors

For over 16 years, FusionStorm has been dedicated to helping our customers maximize their technology ROI. We are fully certified in over 600 competencies by every major technology vendor and manufacturer. Additionally, our expertise covers the entire IT infrastructure, from the network core to the desktop.

This gives you the advantage of a single point of contact and responsibility for your IT needs. It affords you the freedom to integrate best-of-breed products from multiple sources to help you achieve your business goals as cost-effectively as possible without adding complexity. Finally, because of our depth of skills and resources, we can deliver those solutions in the manner that best fits your IT budget, strategy and philosophy.

Get in touch with FusionStorm. Learn how we can help you gain a competitive advantage through innovative IT solutions and services that support your strategic objectives.

The FusionStorm Difference:

Business-driven scalable solutions

As part of our proven 4-step process, we assess your business and IT objectives to make sure your technology meets today's needs — and will scale for future growth.

Expert advice.

Less decision-making stress.

Call on our consultants to help you evaluate your alternatives, analyze the impact on your entire infrastructure, develop a budget, and build a business case for the right solution.

A multi-vendor approach to solving IT challenges

Through alliances and partnerships with dozens of leading vendors, we can always provide technology based on your objectives — not the other way around.

Clear roadmap to meeting requirements

We deploy based on a comprehensive plan that includes thorough testing to assure that all business, functional, and service level requirements are met.

Streamlined path from inception to completion

Through a detailed planning and implementation process, we mitigate risk to assure a smooth deployment with minimal disruption.
